1. Claims 1-14 are presented for examination.
2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 (a) as being unpatentable over "Campaigns in Cyberspace Toward a New Regulatory Approach" by Corrado and patent no. 6,311,190 by Bayer et al. (Bayer).

4. As to claim 1, Corrado teaches the invention substantially as claimed, including a method of tracking information relating to email recipients for campaign purposes comprising:

sending an electronic yard sign from a communication node on a selected list the electronic yard sign including at least one recipient function (pages 5-6, 9, 12, and 16);

receiving recipient input from the recipient function at the node (pages 5-6, 9, 12, and 16);

storing information in a database (page vii); and searching the information in the database (page vii).

However, Corrado does not explicitly teach storing the recipient input in a database, nor searching the database of recipient input.

Bayer teaches storing voter's survey and voting information in a database and searching the database for voter's input information (Abstract, col. 5 line 59 – col. 7 line 36).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the Data Processing art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of Corrado and Bayer to store the recipient input in a database, and search the database of recipient input because it would allow results of recipient input to be viewed immediately.

5. As to claim 2, Corrado teaches the recipient function is selected from a list consisting of: voluntary services to candidate campaign, indicating support for candidate, and making donation to campaign, and sending electronic sign to others (pages 5-6, 9, 12, and 16).

6. Claims 3-14 have similar limitations as claims 1-2; therefore, they are rejected under the same rationale.

7. In the remarks, applicant argued in substance that

(A) Prior art does not teach the term "an electronic yard sign" as being "an electronic re-creaaion of physical campaign yard signs that are placed in yards during campaigns across the country".

As to point (A), Examiner notes that applicant does not explicitly define the term “an electronic yard sign” as being “an electronic re-creaaion of physical campaign yard signs that are placed in yards during campaigns across the country”. Office personnel are to give claims their broadest reasonable interpretation in light of the supporting disclosure. In re Morris, 127 F.3d 1048, 1054-55, 44 USPQ2d 1023, 1027-28 (Fed. Cir. 1997). Limitations appearing in the specification but not recited in the claim are not read into the claim. In re Prater, 415 F.2d 1393, 1404-05, 162 USPQ 541, 550-551 (CCPA 1969). See also In re Zletz, 893 F.2d 319, 321-22, 13 USPQ2d 1320, 1322 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (“During patent examination the pending claims must be interpreted as broadly as their terms reasonably allow.... The reason is simply that during patent prosecution when claims can be amended, ambiguities should be recognized, scope and breadth of language explored, and clarification imposed.... An essential purpose of patent examination is to fashion claims that are precise, clear, correct, and unambiguous. Only in this way can uncertainties of claim scope be removed, as much as possible, during the administrative process.”).

8. Limitations that are argued by applicant but are not in claimed language are not being considered by Examiner.

9. Applicant's arguments filed on 03/28/06 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a).

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR RESPONSE TO THIS FINAL ACTION IS SET TO EXPIRE THREE MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THIS ACTION. IN THE EVENT A FIRST RESPONSE IS FILED WITHIN TWO MONTHS OF THE MAILING DATE OF THIS FINAL ACTION AND THE ADVISORY ACTION IS NOT MAILED UNTIL AFTER THE END OF THE THREE-MONTH SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD, THEN THE SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD WILL EXPIRE ON THE DATE THE ADVISORY ACTION IS MAILED, AND ANY EXTENSION FEE PURSUANT TO 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a) WILL BE CALCULATED FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THE ADVISORY ACTION. IN NO EVENT WILL THE STATUTORY PERIOD FOR RESPONSE EXPIRE LATER THAN SIX MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THIS FINAL ACTION.
